

You of the FCC are honored with what is among the most important tasks in the preservation of our Democracy. Pure market control can very well lead to Dictatorship, which is clearly happening in this case of Sinclair dictating programing over public air. Sinclair's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation, as well as an example of the mis-interpretation of "Democracy" itself. Democracy is only possible to maintain with "checks and balances", and the maintenance of Democracy also depends on the undying preservation of a "common good".

Allowing market consolidation to dictate all programing may seem alright to some of you. Unless it was a dictatorial position which did not match yours. And soon the dictators won't even have to ask YOU (us)!!! And if the "market" is all that matters anymore, you will have nothing to oversee, and there will be no FCC and no regulation of anything.
